Progress Check at Age Two

The progress check at age two is completed by the child's key person when the child is between 26 and 30 months old.
The key person works closely with parents/carers and seeks to involve all adults with parental responsibility, including those who do not live with the child.

The progress check is based on ongoing observations and assessments and reviews the child's development in the three prime areas of learning:

- Communication and Language
- Physical Development
- Personal, Social and Emotional Development

Children's views and contributions are included wherever possible. Staff are sensitive to the different ways young children communicate, including children with speech, language or developmental delays or disabilities.

The aims of the progress check are to:

- Provide parents/carers with a clear overview of their child's development.
- Identify areas where a child is making good progress.
- Highlight any areas where progress may be less than expected.
- Help parents/carers support their child's learning and development at home.
- Identify any additional support that may be needed.

Any concerns about a child's learning or development will be discussed with parents/carers, the SENCO and the nursery manager. Where appropriate, support from other professionals may be sought.
Any concerns relating to a child's welfare or safety will be managed in line with the nursery's Safeguarding Policy.
